The San Joaquin County Sheriff’s Office (SJSO) has a long history of delivering quality service through the creation of partnerships with the people and the communities we serve. With these partnerships as our foundation, members of this office are committed to enhancing the quality of life in our county by listening to concerns, seeking solutions to problems, and striving to make individuals and communities safe and secure. We work hard to gain the public’s trust by holding ourselves to the highest standards of performance and ethics and by performing our duties in such a manner as to afford dignity, respect, and compassion to every individual with whom we come in contact.

Members of the Sheriff’s Office are committed to leading, managing, and interacting with the community now more than ever, given the current issues related to impactful topics surrounding the law enforcement profession. Understanding these issues in a way that acknowledges and honors those affected by them allows us the opportunity to maintain and improve on the level of service to which community members in San Joaquin County are accustomed.

Here at the Sheriff’s Office, we recognize the importance of continuing to provide ongoing training for our personnel on topics such as “Principled Policing” and “Principles of De-Escalation.” In fact, the San Joaquin County Sheriff’s Office was one of the first agencies in the state of California to obtain State certification from the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training for our “Principles of De-Escalation” course and curriculum.

We at the Sheriff’s Office are also committed to establishing inter-agency partnerships as a means of effectively addressing the homeless epidemic, which is one of our topic priorities. “Community Oriented Policing and Problem Solving” is a fundamental program within our Field Forces Division that has proven to be successful in reducing crime and will continue to be used as an effective policing approach to addressing current challenges.

Other strides we are making as we look towards the future include investing in technology, such as: purchasing the latest Body-Worn Camera (BCW) equipment, with improved capabilities and management software; new Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) systems; and a new Records Management software program, just to name a few.
I am proud to say that we have expanded our vocational training and program capabilities to benefit individuals in our custody at the jail. We will also be utilizing grant funding to modernize our custodial facility in order to increase the level of services provided to each inmate housed in the Jail's new medium-security facility. In an effort to increase security, transparency, and the overall efficacy in our Custody Division, a project is currently underway to upgrade our camera system within the jail, including a substantial increase in the number of cameras installed in the facility.

Ultimately, these technological advancements, increased capabilities, improved services, and/or facility upgrades will not be an investment in the San Joaquin County Sheriff's Office only. Rather, these progressive steps toward excellence are investments in the communities and the community members this organization serves. The San Joaquin County Sheriff's Office’s main goal is to improve the quality of life for the citizens of this great county.

These are the tools and methods with which we do what really matters, and that is to honor our relationship with and commitment to the residents of San Joaquin County. As your Sheriff, this is also the reason I have created this strategic plan for the San Joaquin County Sheriff’s Office. This road map will guide our office towards excellence—excellence in our commitment and performance, and excellence in the quality of service we will provide to all who live, work, and play within San Joaquin County.

Sheriff Patrick Withrow
